

Maximin Daza (Continued) 118; treatment of Prisca and Valeria, 118, 119; persecution of Christians, iSS-W* 14i-i43» *45-147; act of toleration, 137, 149- 151; restores privi- leges to Christians, 146, 149, 150; character, 146, 147; eminent victims of, 147; war with Tiridates, 148; final edict, 149, 150	N
Maximus, Governor of Cilicia, 30	Naissus, birthplace of O <sup>&lt;</sup> stantine, 44, 260
Maximus, Governor of Moesia, 17, 18	Narses sues for peace, 7
Meletian schismatics checked, 2497.	Neo-Platonists, influence, 197; discussions of inte*r< to, 216
Meletians recognised as orthodox, 295	"New Rome," 259
Meletius, Bishop of Lyco-polis, condemned by Egyp- tian bishops, 190	Newman, Cardinal, quot<2 on death of Arius, 300
Mensurius, Bishop^ of Carthage and Primate of Africa, trick to save Holy Books, 160; summoned to Rome, 164; death, 164	Nicasa, Canons of, 231, 23 -
Milan, conference at, 106	Nicsea, Council of, called « Constantine, 211; me*1 bers, 212- 214; languaji 213; great interest arous* in, 215; Constantine ope? the Council, 217-2 ^ splits up into parties, 2 z ff; proceedings, 221 f; adopts Nicene Creed, 22* excommunicates Arii* 231; decision in regard t Easter, 231; draws vt Canons of Nicsea, 231; fare well address by Constar tine, 233; dismissed, 234
Milan, Edict of, issued, 107, 115; important clauses, 107, ^ 108; principles and motives of, 109, no ff; hailed by the Christians, 153; thrown over by Li- cinius, 155	Nicene Creed adopted, 22 •ff
Military forces, organisation of, 336> 337	Nicomedia, capital of Die cletian, 8, 39, 258, 260 Christian church erecte< at, 13; church at, razed, 2-
Miltiades elected bishop, 152-	Novatianism in Nortnen Africa, 159
Milvian Bridge, battle of, 86, 87, 92	Numerian, son of Carus, Erri< pire divided between Cari-nus and, 4; death, 5
Minervina, first wife of Constantine, son of, 122, 123	Pagan clergy, 146
Moesia, given over to Con-stantine, 122; invaded by Goths and Sarmatae, 123	Pamphylians, petition of, 142, 143
Montanism, in Northern Africa, 159	Pannonia, given over to Constantine, 122; invaded by Goths and Sarmatse, 123
	Paphnutius, 232, 233